The Convalescent Home of The Children's Hospital

WELLESLEY HILLS

MASSACHUSETTS

THE Managers of the Convalescent Home of the Children's Hospital present to the public their forty-fourth annual report. In collecting the figures and data for this report, Miss Guillod and I could not help making comparisons with ten years ago, when she came to us as superintendent. She was then the only graduate nurse, and today we have four. Our average number of children in those days was 45, and this year it has been 70. In fact, each year we increase our numbers, and this year we reached the high mark of 520 children. Of these, 164 paid some board and 356 were given absolutely free care. Aside from the numbers, the great change in the past ten years is that the whole character of the Home has changed. The Hospital, in order to clear its beds, sends us much sicker children than it used to, and this has necessitated a staff of trained workers, which adds greatly to our expenses but also makes us much more efficient. We now have a resident doctor, who is an interne at the Children's Hospital, four graduate nurses, a physiotherapist, a teacher, a kindergarten teacher, a dentist who comes twice a week, and about fifteen nursery maids. Ten years ago, eighty per cent. of our patients were orthopedic, while this year it is interesting to note that 77 were surgical, 178 were orthopedic, and 265 were medical cases. It is only in the last two years that we have had a physiotherapist, and this year she treated 148 children; these were almost entirely infantile cases sent to us through the Harvard Infantile Paralysis Commission.

This all points to the fact that our work and our efficiency has increased so rapidly in the last ten years that it now seems as though our policy will also have to be changed. We have always said that we had no limit as to the length of time a child stayed at the Home, but it has been proved to the Managers that we can serve the Hospital better by becoming a more acute Convalescent Home. This brings up the problem of chronic illness, and it must be distinguished from that of convalescence. The convalescent child is in the process of restoration to health. If institutional care is needed, the period of stay in a convalescent home is as a rule comparatively short. Three to five weeks after a surgical operation is generally adequate, but medical and orthopedic cases often remain two to three months. We have now come to the conclusion that if, after three months of care, a child shows itself to be a chronic case, it is then better off in a chronic institution, and through the Social Service Department these children are passed on to other institutions, or their families are taught how to care properly for them.

We have become affiliated with the North Shore Babies Hospital at Salem in training nursemaids. As they take children up to two years, and we take them from two to twelve, this gives these girls a well-rounded course in the care of children. We plan to give a diploma at the end of a year, and we thus hope that the nursery maids will be able to secure good positions and be useful in the community.

As usual, the Managers, with many volunteer helpers, have met every Tuesday morning during the winter to cut out thousands of garments and household articles, which are given later to benevolent societies to be made up for use in the Hospital and Home.

Visitors are always welcome at the Home, and we wish that more people could see for themselves what this charity means to these unfortunate children. We are very grateful to all who have shown their appreciation of our work, and I wish especially to mention three magnificent gifts that came to us this year: ten thousand dollars from Mrs. Henry S. Hunnewell, who for over twenty years was our secretary, and whose interest in the Home has never waned; one thousand dollars from Mrs. George E. Cabot, in memory of her son, the money to be used to re-equip our two main wards with new beds; and five hundred dollars from Miss Mabel Louise Riley of Newton. This gift Miss Riley hopes to give annually on condition that we keep one bed available for a child from the town of Newton.

THE MANAGER'S REPORT

Our great imperative need at present is isolation rooms. With as many children as we now have, the problem of contagion is ever present, and we need rooms where suspect cases can be isolated or where a child who needs quiet can be kept instead of being placed in the big wards. We should like one room with four beds, and two rooms with two beds each. We have the available space in the building, so that we think it would not be a matter of great expense to arrange this isolation ward. We are in hopes that someone or some organization will feel inclined to help us with this burden of expense.

The Home is a separate organization from the Hospital and receives no financial aid from the Hospital. As we have said before, the cost of maintenance of a convalescent institution is about half that of a hospital receiving the same number of patients with acute disease. The period of stay in a hospital represents a part, often the most expensive part, of the investment; but the subsequent period of convalescence in an institution requires a real investment of time, skill, and money. Unless this subsidiary but very important investment in convalescence is made, the value of the whole investment may be nothing and the half-cured child is back again in the Children's Hospital. For this reason we again appeal to the public for the necessary funds to carry on our work.
